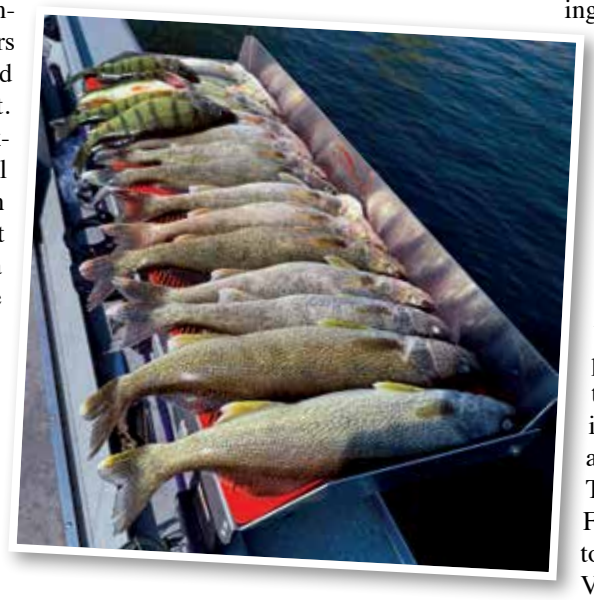
Dave Graybill "The Outdoor Insider"

The weather is on a cooling trend and that is good news for many fisheries. The walleye will be transitioning to their favorite fall locations, and the trout bite will improve on our area's lakes. This is also a good time to fish for spiny ray species on many of the lakes in the region.

I have mentioned that this is a good time of year to fish for crappie, bluegill and perch at many of our area's lakes. I am getting reports about terrific fishing for crappie, particularly at Potholes Reservoir. There are folks anchoring near some of the habitat boxes and casting bait to the bottom or under bobbers to the fish that are concentrated near these structures. Others are trolling smaller Flicker Shad crank baits and having a blast. Not only are the crappie attacking these lures, but huge bluegill are also hitting them along with smallmouth bass. No matter what technique you use, expect to do a lot of sorting. Most of the crappie are under the 9-inch minimum size requirement. There is no size requirement for bluegill. The daily limit is up to 25 bluegill and crappie combined. Don't be surprised if you hook a whopper rainbow while trolling Flicker Shads. I should mention that the water level on Potholes is still very low. You need to be very cautious using most of the launches. I have also talked about how I want to get to Blue Lake, near Soap Lake, for perch, but according to one of my sources, who fished there recently, the water is still warm, and the perch are scattered. I will try it in a couple of weeks. Everyone is hoping that the walleye fishing on Potholes Reservoir will pick up this fall. In years past, this reservoir has provided excellent action in the cooler months. Not only can the walleye bite be good, but there are also some very nice fish landed. I have usually found good numbers in the area up lake from the State Park, trolling bottom bouncers and spinners over the changing depths of the rolling submerged dunes between the west shore and the mouth of Crab Creek.

If you are wondering how the early fall fishing for walleye is going on Banks Lake, I am happy to tell you it's great! I fished Banks last Tuesday with Nate Stull, of Stully's Guide Service, and we had a great time. We started on Barker Flats and got off to a slow start in the early morning, but after an hour or so things changed dramatically. The walleye decided to go on the bite and there were times when we couldn't keep four rods in the water. We were landing walleye that ranged in size from about 13 inches up to 19 inches. We got a bunch of perch, too, some of them were large enough to go in the live well. We also got smallmouth bass, and some of these were big, too. After a couple of hours, we were getting close to our limits and Nate wanted to give a spot in Devil's Lake a try. I am sure glad he did. We landed the rest of our limits pretty quickly including a couple of 19 and 20 inchers. Nate likes to troll bottom bouncers and spinners this time of year. We fished from roughly 20 feet deep to around 30 feet deep on Barker Flats, looking for fish. He said that the walleye are transitioning from their summer areas to deeper water as temperatures cool down. They are going to be following the feed. I did a video of our morning at Banks, and Nate explained in detail how he fishes for walleye in the fall. The video is available on the Dave Graybill YouTube channel. This week's photo is our catch of walleye from that day. We even kept some of the bigger perch, and they were delicious.



There are a couple of other options available to anglers that promise very good action and impressive catches. Rufus Woods Reservoir is producing triploid rainbow trout that often weigh 5 or 6 pounds and, as many anglers know, some fish much larger than that. I have been in a rush to get my fish the last couple of trips to Rufus, so I just fished bait on the bottom. I was doing combo trips from Rufus to Banks Lake, and this is a fast way to get our two-fish limits. When I have no other plans to fish elsewhere, I like to fish jigs. I have caught big fish on 1/8th ounce olive-colored jigs and watermelon-colored grubs, like the ones you would use for bass. Fishing with the jigs allows me to catch and release. If you are using bait on Rufus Woods, you have to keep every fish you land. I much prefer to fish during the week, as there is usually some current. The low current on the weekends makes the fishing slower, but you can still catch fish.

Here is the latest about the changes planned for the Vernita Bridge Access site: The Vernita Bridge Water Access Area, a popular spot for fall fishing on the Columbia River, is undergoing changes to improve safety and preserve its natural resources. The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) plans to phase out overnight camping at Vernita by October 16, 2025, and transition to a day-use only site by 2026. The department is working on developing an improved boat launch, restroom and parking area. Mike Livingston, WDFW South Central Region 3 director, emphasized the site's importance, saying, "WDFW understands the importance of this fishery both locally and regionally and is committed to providing public access in the area for anglers." In recent years, the site's usage has become unsustainable due to the lack of sanitation facilities and environmental damage. Currently, camping is limited to 14 days per user in a 30 day period during the fall salmon season, which runs from August 16 to October 15. Outside of this period, camping is prohibited, and vehicle access will be restricted to a smaller day-use area. Alternative camping options are available nearby, including Desert Aire RV Park and Jackson Creek Fish Camp in Mattawa.

NOXIOUS WEEDS

What is a Noxious Weed? They are non-native plants that have been introduced to Spokane County through human actions. Because of their aggressive growth and lack of natural enemies, these species can be destructive, competitive, and difficult to control.

SULFUR CINQUEFOIL

(POTENTILLA RECTA)

A perennial with one to several stalks growing from the rootstock. Grows 1-3ft tall. Leaves and stems are covered in hair. Palm shaped leaves are divided into leaflets that are 2-4 inches long with toothed edges. Yellow flowers have 5 heart shaped petals with a dark yellow center. Flowers appear on the top of the stem. Spreads by seed and root fragments. Hand pulling and digging can be effective if all the root is removed. Mowing and grazing is not effective. Spraying is most effective in the rosette stage, before the flower buds begin to develop.

October GARDENING TIPS

Master Gardeners of Spokane County

SEASON EXTENDERS

Plan ahead and plant late season bloomers and color including asters, mums, ornamental grasses, trees/shrubs, & fall blooming bulbs. Change out your planters using fall blooming plants including ornamental cabbage.

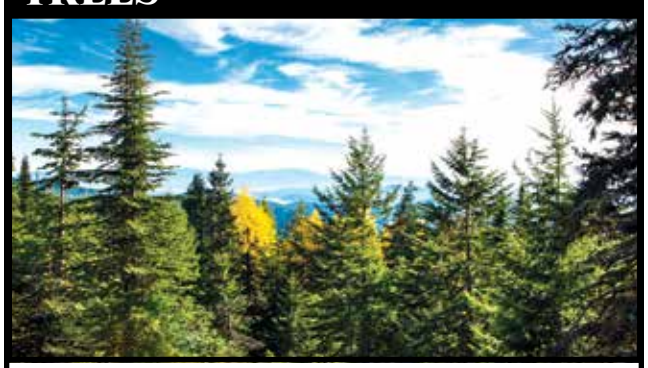
LEAVES

Leaves grace the trees all summer, then turn into beautiful colors in the fall. They are also useful for mulch, weed suppression in veggie gardens and pathways, compost and insulation.

BIRD FEEDERS

Migratory and winter resident birds will appreciate it if you repair damaged bird feeders, keep the food fresh and clean, hang suet, and keep water sources open & clean.

TREES



Conifer needles closest to the trunk will drop in the fall. Evergreens provide year long interest and shelter for small animals and birds. Keep watering your trees until the ground freezes. Larches turn yellow and drop needles.

MAHOGANY AND MERLOT INVADES CHELAN, OCT. 3-5

CHELAN, Wash. — Imagine a dozen big unlimited hydroplanes thundering through the waters, recreating the action of earlier years. We are talking about boats like Miss Wahoo, Miss Budweiser, Miss Burien, Miss Thriftway, Atlas Van Lines, Pay 'n Pak and Notre Dame! These same raceboats, now beautifully restored and preserved, will return to Lake Chelan Oct. 3-5.

Hydro exhibition races will begin early Friday morning (weather permitting!) and continue on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

You will also have the opportunity to purchase a "Pit Pass" to enter Thunder Alley presented by the Hydroplane & Raceboat Museum so you can get up close to the boats and talk to the crews!

On Saturday only, Mahogany & Merlot will once again continue along 'Mahogany Row' at Don Morse Park & Marina on beautiful Lake Chelan. Presented by the PNW Chapter of the Antique & Classic Boat Society, meticulously restored Antique & Classic Mahogany Chris-Crafts, Centurys, Gar Woods and other makes from a bygone era will line the docks for your viewing and voting pleasure.

Saturday Night we will host a "Pizza Party in the Pits" - OPEN TO THE PUBLIC! Purchase a Pizza Dinner*, dance or sing along to Live Music by The Superchargers and enjoy beverages from our Waterfront Beer & Wine Garden*! (additional fees apply)

In between looking at all the hydroplanes and boats, browse through our Vendor Village presented by The Hydroplane & Raceboat Museum, with vendors offering an array of art, crafts, local produce, gifts, clothing, one of a kind items, vintage goodies and more. Don't forget - you can also enjoy all the action from our beautiful Lakefront Beer & Wine Garden!

There is so much to do at Mahogany & Merlot! Make plans now to come and enjoy a perfect weekend with the perfect entertainment!

Visit: www.mahoganyandmerlot.com.

A pit full of legendary old-school unlimited hydroplanes like the Miss Bardahl and Miss Wahoo are generally visitors to Mahogany & Merlot. Mahogany & Merlot photo

38TH FALL CLASSIC SET FOR TRI-CITY RACEWAY OCT. 3-5

From NW Motorsports News Services

WEST RICHLAND, Wash. — The purse and prestige have drawn another stellar field of super late model drivers to West Richland, Wash. for the 38th annual "Fall Classic 200" on the half-mile Tri-oval at Tri City Raceway, Oct. 3-5.

Kasey Kleyn drove to victory in the 37th Annual "Fall Classic 200" presented by Desert Food Mart, taking home the $10,000 prize and in the process also became the 2024 Northwest Super Late Model Series champion.

While Klein (7th/184 points) will seek to become a rare repeat FC winner, he'll face a challenge in catching current point leader, rookie Ryan Phipps (248) to reclaim the NWSLM championship.

Ken Bonney (240), Johvan Dillon (223) and Chris Kalsch (213) are among the teams within better striking distance.

The Fall Classic began in 1988 at Yakima Speedway where Pete Harding took the initial checkered flag. Harding would go on to win three more times in succession (1997-1999) as the race survived both COVID and the closure of Yakima Speedway and relocation to Tri City in 2021.

Other former champs in the field include B.J. Tidrick (2006), Naima Lang (2011, 2012 & 2020) and Donnie Wendt (2022) in the field released by the NWSLM.

The race weekend included feature events for other divisions, including Vintage Modifieds, Modifieds, Pro Late Models, Mini Stocks, and Hobby Stocks.

Full event information can be found by visiting www.tricityraceway.com.

OPPORTUNISTIC CHASE ELLIOTT STEALS A NASCAR CUP PLAYOFF WIN AT KANSAS | By Reid Spencer/NASCAR Wire Service

Chase Elliott, driver of the #9 Kelley Blue Book Chevrolet, celebrates after winning the NASCAR Cup Series Hollywood Casino 400 Presented by ESPN BET at Kansas Speedway on September 28, 2025 in Kansas City. NASCAR Photo

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (September 28, 2025) — In the last few feet of race track in the second overtime Sunday afternoon, Chase Elliott came from oblivion to steal the Hollywood Casino 400 Presented by ESPN BET and earn a berth in the Round of 8 of the NASCAR Cup Series Playoffs.

As his No. 9 Hendrick Motorsports Chevrolet sped wide open through the final corner on Lap 273 at Kansas Speedway, Elliott's car bounced off the side of Denny Hamlin's Toyota on the way to the finish line.

Elliott, who restarted eighth for the final two-lap shootout, got to the stripe 0.069 seconds ahead of Hamlin, who led 159 laps and drove the final stretch of the second Round of 12 Playoff race without benefit of power steering.

"Everything worked out perfect for me," said Elliott, who picked up his second win of the season, his second at Kansas and the 21st of his career. "Had a great push through (Turns) 1 and 2. That kind of all started with the 6 (Brad Keselowski). Big run off of 2. Seas kind of parted and just was able to keep my momentum up. That was really it…

Hamlin was spent after man-handling his car around the 1.5-mile track in the closing laps of the race.

"Just super disappointing," said Hamlin, who swept the first and second stages. "I wanted it bad. It would have been 60 (career victories) for me. The team just did an amazing job with the car, just really, really fast.

"Gave me everything I needed. Got the restart I needed. Just couldn't finish it there on the last corner."

The good news for Hamlin is that he increased his margin over the current Playoff cut line to 48 points entering next Sunday's Round of 12 elimination race at the Charlotte Motor Speedway Road Course. Barring disaster, Hamlin is all but assured of advancing to the Round of 8.

Christopher Bell finished third, followed by pole winner Chase Briscoe and Bubba Wallace, who led the field to green for the final overtime restart but faded to fifth after battling side-by-side with Hamlin on the final lap.

Despite the fifth-place finish, Wallace leaves Kansas 10th in the standings, 26 points below the elimination line for the next round.

He was tantalizingly close to his second win of the season before John Hunter Nemechek knocked the Ford of Zane Smith into the outside wall in Turn 3 in the first overtime.

Playoff drivers Kyle Larson and Tyler Reddick ran sixth and seventh on Sunday but head to Charlotte in very different positions. Larson is 54 points ahead of ninth-place Ross Chastain, while Reddick is 11th in the standings, 29 points below the cut line.
